4 of the 5 screenshots on the store page are of the area you spawn in at the start & the 5th one is the first room you spawn into in the second area which is where you realise you've paid $15 for a dark maze game. I already don't really care for maze games, I like them even less in the dark (you get a flashlight which illuminates about 2 feet in front of you, it is barely tolerable). The environments in the maze (that I ran around in for about 15 minutes before giving up because there didn't seem to be any environmental clues as to which way I was meant to be going) were uninteresting, which is why I mentioned the store screenshot selection at the start, I don't think there is much of interest in the rest of the game. The busted wooden floors, the lockers closed & open, upturned tables were just repeated through corridors at random, so it all blended together into a blur of me not caring anymore & waiting for the jumpscare to kill me. The Pineview Drive guys did a good maze in Obscuritas, it gave you environmental clues so you could tell you were on the right track, it was subtle an unobtrusive but you had a clue, so you weren't just getting moreu2665u2665u2665u2665u2665u2665u2665off at another corridor that looked the same. I triggered the jumpscare about 5 times in the 15 minutes I played, the store says there is a story; I didn't find it. It also does the thing which is worse than headbob where when you sprint it is more of a exaggerated drunken sway but while sprinting, that doesn't even sound like a good idea for a camera when you write itt down, so I'm always surprised when I see it. Basically, $15 maze game, no. *like the other reviewer says, if I've missed something, if there are clues & it isn't just nonsense maze running where I'll just stumble on the story because of luck; then I'm happy to buy it again & experience it. I did refund it though.. This game is definitely confusing.will it scare you? Yes YES IT WILL, but after awhile you are very confused as what to do.if you are going in the right place? No clues at all.no clues, so it is a huge maze. If they update it or kinda tell you what you are supposed to do then yeah it can be a great game. The jumpscares can only get you so many times.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=98LtATU7N9I> AT THIS MOMENT, I do not recommend it, but in the future very possible.. ***** UPDATE!! Dev failed to respond in a week to negative reviews of a game after it was released. Either this is a scam as I reference below or the dev is incompetent. In either case, do not buy this poor excuse of a game. I wouldn't buy it for $0.01. I got refund. *****

"where the story has a fundamental role" There is little to no game options. Based on the limited options, grammar of the game page and halfu2665u2665u2665u2665u2665u2665u2665game play, this strikes me as a foreign throw together in attempt to only get money for 15 minutes of work. To the developer: If you feel this review is harsh and I have missed some crucial part of the game that would change my mind, then please let me know. I will be hanging on to this game for another 2 days before requesting a refund from Steam. You have until then to show me the error of my ways.. 4 of the 5 screenshots on the store page are of the area you spawn in at the start & the 5th one is the first room you spawn into in the second area which is where you realise you've paid $15 for a dark maze game.
